

COVID-19 Resources and Health Order Updates – December 4, 2020

- 1) Check out our new COVID-19 Campaign Shred the Spread. We are hopeful this campaign of highly visual graphics, stickers, custom masks, videos featuring local influencers and its own website will help re-energize our community members and remind everyone that although times are challenging, now, more than ever, we need to work together.
- 2) Important Notes:
 - Please be aware, according to the CDC current guidelines, individuals who test positive but have been identified as a close contact will not be asked to quarantine if 1.) their past positive result was within a 90 day period and 2.) they have no symptoms. Because they have a new known exposure, we encourage symptom monitoring as reinfection can occur. In this 90 day period after testing positive, testing in the absence of symptoms is not recommended.
 - Please share the following messages with your employees:
 - If employees want their workplace business to stay open they should do the following:
 1. The employees should monitor their behavior outside of work. We are seeing transmission from co-worker to co-worker outside of work hours and employees exposing themselves outside of work with friends and then later exposing co-workers.
 2. Employees will not get in trouble if they test positive or are determined a close contact. The more open communication between staff and supervisors, the better!
